Approved For Release 2000/09/11 : CIA-RDP78-04311A000100140007-1

SECRET

CONFIDENTIAL

11 April 1961

Director of Training

THUR : Chief [redacted] 25X1A6b

Chief Instructor, Operations Course

Course Critique [redacted] 25X1A9a

25X1A6b

1. The Chief [redacted] asked that a copy of Mr. [redacted] course critique on OFC #21 be sent to the Director of Training and suggested that the DD/S might be interested in seeing it since the student is a member of the Office of Logistics. 25X1A9a

2. It is interesting to note [redacted] comments on the value of OFC to career employees and particularly its "importance for Support Personnel." 25X1A9a

3. [redacted] is a career employee of the Office of Logistics. [redacted] a GS-15, is en route to a Far East station where he will be Chief of Support. [redacted] left OFC #21 after the fourth week because of an early date for reporting overseas. 25X1A9a 25X1A9a 25X1A9a

4. The final course evaluation on [redacted] will indicate that he was at the top of the class for the four weeks of his stay. He was not only interested, but inquisitive. He seemed to be a man trying to learn on the run. Every weekend found [redacted] in the classroom reading over and studying the materials which would be covered after his departure. In addition to being intelligent and cooperative, [redacted] has a warm sense of humor and the ability to make himself liked by all. The staff members were all impressed by [redacted] performance. The students felt they had lost their leader when [redacted] departed. [redacted] was the type student that makes the instructor not only exert himself more but also feel that his instruction is hitting the target. 25X1A9a 25X1A9a 25X1A9a 25X1A9a 25X1A9a

[redacted] 25X1A9a

Attachment

DOC 6 REV DATE 2/1/81 BY 025251
OPI 1 TYPE 01
CLASS 5 PAGES 4 REV CLASS C
JUST 22 NEXT REV 2011 AUTH: HR 70-2

[redacted]

Approved For Release 2000/09/11 : CIA-RDP78-04311A000100140007-1

SECRET